

Ruth Okimoto, Samurai Mask

Generation Nexus: Peace in the Post-war Era

Monday, November 11, 2013—Sunday, April 2, 2014 (weekends only)

EXHIBIT AND PROGRAMS WILL BE

LOCATED AT THE

MILITARY INTELLIGENCE SERVICE

HISTORIC LEARNING CENTER

(BLDG. 640)

640 MASON STREET, SF 94129

(IN SF PRESIDIO @ CRISSY FIELD)

SAN FRANCISCO, CA 94129

All programs are FREE and Open to the Public

WWII incarceration brought Japanese Americans and Native Americans together in disparate locations throughout the United States; both were victims of US government's concentration and confinement policies. Betty Nobue Kano and Janeen Antoine curate artists who share this fateful history, in remembrance of those who lived it, and pay homage to their communities with sculpture, painting and poetry. These children of war, of "war brides" and GI soldiers, of the camps, and of veterans of war from indigenous communities, Muriel Antoine, Fredrick Cloyd, Lucien Kubo, Emmanuel Montoya, Ruth Okimoto, Judy Shintani, Anthony Sul, and Hulleah Tsinhinjinnie are the artists who give voice to peace in the post-war era.

Exhibit Opening Reception: All Nations Singers, Medicine Warriors Dancers and Genyukai, Okinawan music and shiisa (potluck)

- Date: Sunday, November 17, 2013
- Time: 1—3 PM

Artists Panel and Poetry: Muriel Antoine, Fredrick Cloyd, Lucien Kubo, Emmanuel Montoya, Ruth Okimoto, Judy Shintani, Anthony Sul, Hulleah Tsinhinjinnie

- Date: Saturday, November 23, 2013
- Time: 1—4 PM

Winter Solstice Celebration Performance by Harupin-Ha, Butoh Dance

- Date: Sunday, December 22, 2013
- Time: 1—3:30 PM

Children's Craft Workshop with Judy Shintani and Anthony Sul

- Date: Saturday, February 1, 2014
- Time: 12—2 PM

EO 9066 Event: Film on Black Japanese life (TBA)

- Date: Saturday, March 1, 2014
- Time: 1—3:30 PM

Ohlone in the Presidio: Closing Ceremony, Pomo/Ohlone Dancers, Shell-mound Walk

- Date: Sunday, April 27, 2014
- Time: 1—3:30 PM

Lucien Kubo, Japanese American Internment

National Japanese American
Historical Society

1684 Post Street, San Francisco, CA 94115

Phone: (415) 921-5007

Email: njahs@njahs.org

Web: www.njahs.org